DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 46-52 and 54-79 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 3-3-05.

This application contains claims drawn to inventions nonelected without traverse in Paper received by the Office on March 3, 2005. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 38-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Huard et al., USPN 6,769,693.

Huard et al. '693 discloses an improved gaming table apparatus comprising, as viewed from figure 2, a gaming table having a gaming surface; a plurality of gaming locations on the gaming table, whereby players may play a primary game of chance (44) such that players may make primary wagers on said game of chance, see figure 4; at least one dealer location on the gaming table, adjacent to which a dealer (38) may operate the table game apparatus, see (64); a plurality of video presentations, see col. 8:8-12, the video presentations being generated independently from the table game, see e.g. "various visual animations" are displayed on display (65,67); a video controller (63) configured to display the video information to the display (65,67); a tuner (60) for providing the video presentation to the controller (63) for display on the display (65,67); and a digital computer unit (46) in communication with the above identified parts, see figures 6A, 6B and 6C. Further disclosed are moveable player input devices (50) and (62) whereby a player can input commands in order to play the supplemental game shown on (46).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 53 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huard et al. '693 as applied to claims 38-45 above, and further in view of Huard et al., USPN 6,146,270.

What Huard et al. '693 lacks in clearly disclosing is interconnect a plurality of tables together in order to increase the potential pools for random prize awards. In an analogous table game system, Huard et al. '270 teaches that it is well known to those of ordinary skill in the art to provide a plurality of like game tables and connect said table together in order to increase the pool for the random prizes. Such increases in pool amounts allow for the potential of either large prizes to be awarded or more small prizes to be awarded, either way, this increases players' enjoyment of the table game. Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art would find it obvious to take the teachings found in Huard et al. '270 of interlinking plural gaming tables to the disclosed gaming table of Huard et al. '693. in order to provide increase pool amounts for distribution to few or many players.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
